

SEAN EVANS

ABOUT —

Sean is among the finest in an elite group of global coaches. Working with a select group of CEOs and leadership teams, he leverages 25 years of experience and second-to-none training to bring focus to what's important, while driving clarity and alignment across your team. Never afraid of asking the tough questions, he creates the space to easily navigate difficult conversations, an arena for alternative perspectives to reveal themselves, and a forum for unity and commitment.

At the end of the day, it's about getting the results you desire. Working with Sean, you get what you want. He'll drive you to achieve results, holding you and your team accountable for your performance, supporting you along the path to be the best you can possibly be.

Sean holds a unique ability to hold people and process in equal esteem. The blending of financial acumen, strategic analysis, and operational experience is heightened by his understanding of how people think, the ability to unwind long-held paradigms, and grace in navigating group dynamics.

You and your company have what it takes to achieve what you desire. Sean helps you and your team see what is possible and is the catalyst for your success.

Sean lives in Toronto with his wife, Catherine, and their dog, Ruby. His biggest hobby, second only to delighting his family and friends with his talent in the kitchen, is exploring how much of his own greatness he can reveal, and supporting others to do the same.
